

Loving

Today, i'm going to talk to you about the film Loving released in february 2017. The film was directed by Jeff Nichols, an american writer and screenwriter with the actors Joel Edgerton, Ruth Negga, Marton Csokas, Nick Kroll and many others. It's the story of Mildred and Richard Loving, two people who love each other, but Mildred is black and Richard is white, and it's the time when there is segregation in America, in 1958. So, the state of Virginia, where the Loving settle, sues them and sentenced them to a year in prison. But, the Loving won't let them, they will fight to the end, and they even go to the supreme court. I think this film wants to convey the message that love makes you stronger and we have the right to love who we want! I really liked this movie, because it's filled with emotion, the actors play very well and thanks to this film inspired by a true story, we understand how it was at the time for the Black people. So, I invite you to go and see this movie to know the end!
